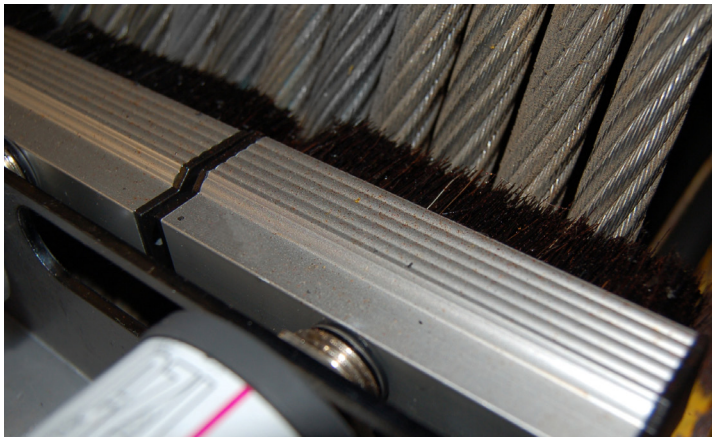
Acculube™ Automatic Rope Lubricator and Cleaning Kit

The Acculube automatic rope lubricator and cleaning kit is the set-and-forget way of maintaining traction ropes with simple annual maintenance. Quickly assembled in the machine room, Acculube is installed so that the brushes are in contact with the ropes. Just set the cartridges to the proper period for your application (one year for standard indoor elevators, six months for exterior or high-contaminant environments) and walk away knowing that your hoist ropes are being consistently treated and cleaned as the elevator operates.

Acculube also offers tremendous savings in maintenance costs. As shown in the chart below, hand-applying lubricant is expensive. A recommended twice per year lubrication can cost as much as USD$1600/yr. in labor costs.

However, Acculube performs the same service (with greater consistency and accuracy) at a savings of USD$1200/yr. in the first year (see below).

The lubricator cartridges come pre-filled with our specially-formulated DrakaLube™ rope treatment. The Acculube lubricator comes in two sizes: the 200 with three 70 mm brushes and the 300 with 100 mm brushes. Please note that if your ropes are dirty, there will be greasy residue for a short while as the Acculube begins to clean them.



FEATURES

- Labor and time-saving way to keep ropes lubricated
- No oil spills or splashes in the machine room or the car
